

ShopWala Return Policy

This guide explains the return period, eligibility requirements, excluded products, and return-shipping rules for ShopWala purchases.

Return period and eligibility

- Most eligible products can be returned within 30 calendar days from the date of delivery.
- Returned products should be unused and undamaged and should include the original packaging, accessories, manuals, and product tags.
- A valid ShopWala order number is required when submitting a return request.

Products that are not eligible for return

- Personalized or custom-made products are generally not eligible for return unless the item arrives damaged or defective.
- Opened personal-care, hygiene, and intimate products cannot be returned because of health and safety requirements.
- Products identified as Final Sale are not eligible for return.

Damaged, defective, or incorrect products

- If an item arrives damaged, defective, or materially different from what was ordered, contact ShopWala within 7 calendar days of delivery.
- ShopWala may request photographs of the product, packaging, shipping label, or visible damage before approving the return.
- When a damaged-item return is approved, ShopWala covers the applicable return shipping cost.

Return shipping and inspection

- For change-of-mind returns, the customer is responsible for return shipping unless the product listing specifically offers free returns.
- After a returned item reaches the ShopWala warehouse, the product is inspected before the refund is approved.
- Customers should retain the return shipment details until the return has been processed.

Return request support

- Customers should provide their ShopWala order number and relevant product details when contacting support about a return.
- For damaged or defective products, photographs may help support verify the issue and process the return request.